Introduction :

Doctor Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya, Sagar, one of the major institutions of higher education in India, is devoted to the research and advanced studies in various disciplines.. It is widely known for excellence in teaching, research and for well qualified, specialized, dedicated faculties. The large and widely spread campus located at a picturesque hillock near Lakha Banjara Lake has immense scope of greenery and bio-diversity. After up-gradation as a central university, it has witnessed significant transformation and phenomenal improvement in almost all aspects of higher education.

The University offers a wide panorama of teaching-learning like basic sciences, arts, humanities, applied sciences, commerce, pharmacy ,computer, management ,law , education etc. The University has 11 Schools conducting research programmes along with traditional undergraduate, postgraduate teaching programmes.

The UGC recommended Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) pattern of teaching including continuous internal evaluation has been successfully implemented in the University since 2009. Admission to all teaching programmes (UG, PG & Ph.D.) is given through a national level written test subsequently followed by counselling procedure. The classrooms and laboratories of departments are well equipped with modern facilities.

University has several separate boys and girls hostels, a rich central library with over 3 lac books, various national and international journals and e-library. The I.T. Cell has super computer and web-facility essential for information technology. The university was accredited grade 'A' by the NAAC, Bangalore in 2007 in second cycle and granted grade A again in its 3rd cycle of Accreditation in January, 2015.
